Medical School Jubilee

31 AUG. 1935

WONDERS OF MEDICAL SCIENCE are being demonstrated at the University at an exhibition held in conjunction with the jubilee of the medical school. The heart of a stumpy tall lizard which had been killed is shown beating outside the body, while Mr. W. E. Walwright is timing the pulsations. Water instead of blood is used for the experiment, and a jet can be seen coming from the heart.

THE BONYTHON HALL at the Adelaide University is nearing completion. Work on the slate roof is well under way, and plasterers have begun operations inside the building. This photograph was taken from the Conservatorium steps.
