

A photographic glimpse of the charming estate, Urrbrae, which the late Mr. Peter Waite presented to the University of Adelaide to be devoted to research work in agricultural science. Dr. A. E. V. Richardson, who has been appointed Director and Professor of Agriculture at the Waite Research Institute, will reside at the palatial home. Particulars of the scheme were published in The Register on June 24.