

18th. March 1947.

Dear Bartlett,

Welcome back to Cambridge. I hope, and that with some confidence, that you enjoyed your trip to North Carolina. It looks as though they would certainly succeed in getting together a unique body of teaching and research staff at the two institutes, and I wish there was any prospect of our doing anything qualitatively so good at this University.

Yours sincerely,