

---

27th August, 1956.

Dear Miss Lucka,

I have just received a copy of your translation of "Statistical Methods", which I think looks very well indeed, and you are most heartily to be congratulated on the final success of what have been, I know, long and frustrating endeavours to get the translation published.

I shall look forward to seeing the reviews in German periodicals of this edition, and I hope the reviewers may not be deflected from a consideration of the book's essential contents and message, to the very real difficulties which are well known to the production of an ideal German translation of foreign work.

In any case, I should like to express my pleasure, which will be shared by other friends, on seeing the full accomplishment of your labour.

Sincerely yours,